This timetable is subject to change and more courses may be added throughout the year.

E Learning Courses

Complete the theory component of your maritime archaeology training at your own pace in your own space with E Learning. These three courses can be stand-alone but they also complement the Skills Days.

The Introduction to Maritime Archaeology Course goes with the Foreshore/Underwater Recorder Day.

The Intertidal and Terrestrial Archaeology or Underwater Archaeology Course goes with the Foreshore/Underwater Surveyor Day.

Book on your Skills Day(s) and receive a £5 discount on the options below. Credits are awarded to members who have completed both the E Learning course and its associated Skills Day(s).

Start as soon as you are ready! For more information and to sign up visit:

#Rooswijk1740 Courses

A series of courses have been planned based around the artefacts excavated during the #Rooswijk1740 project in summer 2017. Get hands-on experience conserving artefacts from the Dutch East Indiaman wreck or learn how to create 3D models of artefacts. There will also be a course teaching the history of coins using the extensive and diverse collection from the Rooswijk wreck. These courses are supported by the Cultural Heritage Agency of the Netherlands and Historic England.

Other dates available on request. Please note that minimum diving qualifications and experience will apply. Contact the NAS office for more information.

NAS Fieldwork and Fieldschool

This year, NAS will be organising fieldwork in which members can participate to develop their archaeological skills. Participants must have completed their Part 1 or Skills Days prior to fieldwork.

Foreshore fieldwork: depending on the weather, one of the many archaeological foreshore sites around Hastings will be the location of NAS fieldwork over summer.

Underwater fieldwork: will potentially take place on a wreck off Weymouth – subject to funding.
